 NEWS ***

THE END OF AN ERA

By Christine

An era ends by the noticeable changes that propel a group into a new stage.

Well girls, big things are a changing... changes some of you may have noticed and more are yet to come. The untimely demise of Bree heralded the beginning of the end for the old era... The change to Christine sparked the New Era by starting the changes.

Changes you've seen are an effort to take our club from a self serving club to a service club. Although the Travelling Transvestite in Trouble Fund was tongue in cheek; we are collecting funds at our meetings for a twice yearly charitable donation. We expect to make our donations at our yearly birthday party and our Christmas Pot Luck dinner.

Another sure sign of an era change is when publications change. This is the last issue of the Illusions Newsletter; as we know it. The publication is growing to full size format with better photo's, better layout, better articles, better timing; just plain better! When you see the new look and if you don't agree with any of the above statements, contact me and we will make the necessary changes to make my statement correct. In order to facilitate the change of format, the cost of our publication will rise as well as the Distribution costs.

We have held our membership costs since we started this club... our fee structure will have to change to improve our club. The cover cost for the new publication will be $6.00 per issue. Club membership will be $30.00 per Year as will all renewals. You will still get 6 issues per year, so that remains unchanged. Still the best club value in Canada.

Changes must occur for any group to survive and prosper. Trust you all look forward to this New Era as I do.

See You Soon! 1992...

FROM MY EYES

Hopefully you're not tired of all the New Year reflections.. as I feel that there are some people and events that were special to my little world.

Looking back on the year.. there were certainly hi-lites like the 2nd Birthday Party.. The Ball at the Highlander, etc, etc.. but more so for me.. It's the people that made the events special.

Various people have gone out of their way to show support and offer us their talents and friendships... I can remember sitting across from Rona Rice-a-Roni and her handsome Peter while in Edmonton... wondering who they were.. not a few weeks later back in Calgary, we were introduced. And from that point on, we fell in love with both of them. Their kindness for all the girls was special and many a good time was shared either at the club, down at Maddisons, at the Mr & Ms Gay Ball or in our home. We wish them well in the future.

The obvious next two people that really jumped into our world and showed us hours of love and friendship and fun times... are the Sasquatch Sisters.. Terry and Ryan. Sister Precious, Cow Patty, Industrial Strength and that Real Estate gal... haha. We never knew what character they would be next.. they taught us all to enjoy ourselves and to have fun with dressing up. They took us under their wing with their "mega talent" and helped us jump into the drag shows.. we really miss them out here, but I've called a few times to them out at the coast and all is well. Ryan has found a fabric store that he likes and has been sewing all kinds of "MOO Perfect" outfits! A huge hello goes out to them from all of us and my New Years wish for them is continued and extended Good Health. They thought they might come out in February.. so we'll be sure to run into them.

While on the topic of Drag Queens... and anyone related to either ISCCA or Edmon-ton's group.. or even Sask... (gads, we sure have got around haven't we?). Thanks to all of them that have taken the time to spend time with us.

OK... lets see who can I think of... KIWI... Thanks Kiwi for consistently showing your support for Illusions... lots of the gals wish you had "Legs for sale"... Trashy Terry... Thanks for always grabbing the "MIKE" and performing... and of course the hair and makeup that you tangle with... Ty Morgan... great shows... keep up the good waxing... our house loves it... Syreeta... It's your year... and thanks for asking about our group all the time... Twiggy... your signs for our T-Shirts is just fab... thanks... Tiffany... thanks for the shows... great outfits... Little John... your enthusiasm is great fun... Many... you're such fun... Anita lay... what a sweetie... Ivana and Bruce and Stewart... thanks for the sequining around the kitchen table... that was fun. Mr. Vera... always welcome when you're in town... WELL... Sorry if I left any of those gals out... you know how they can get when they don't see their name in lights... haha. But back to the regular group. There were some nice moments they year that were special and worth mentioning. One of them is my dear friend Randy. He has been a good pal and confidante through the last few years and this year was his biggest challenge. His turmoil was to tell the woman that he loves... all about his hobby. He battled with it for so long... finally took action (Not before he asked if he could rent our couch to live on if things went bad)... and went off to tell her. His entire world seemed to hang in limbo for what seems forever... Congrats... it was really nice to wash dishes with Mary at Xmas and feel that her life is complete with Randy and Rhonda now.

Whenever we take the time to get to know people... the rewards are great. There are various "gals" that only share their time in the days with me and for their own reasons... cannot come out to the Club... I have enjoyed spending times with these gals as well... Cynthia comes to mind... It's great to see her practising with her makeup and lounging out with the Toronto Globe and Mail... just like she's at home.

It's not always turned out hunky dory for some people and I hope that in the New Year, situations will become better for them. It's not easy to advise an "Engaged Man" that he should tell his bride about his hobby... and then when he agrees and does... all hell breaks loose. Some things in life do throw us for a curve.

Thanks and Happy New Year go out to our sister Ursula... It was great to talk to her at our Xmax Party... and to all of our sisters that unfortunately reside in other cities... Hi Marcla... Hi Diana... Hi Charlene!

Illusions is solidly on the map in this country and as I travel around with various activities... It's really nice to feel the support of fellow sisters. I get alot of mail from other very small groups that wish they could tag on and be close to all those that read about us... You're welcome whenever you're in the Cow Town. So in 1992, there's lots of good memories... new houses for some, new roommates, new friends, and now a New Year... Good Luck to all..

Lots of love,

BARBIE

P.S. A special from the heart thank you to Bryan who constantly supports me and encourages me to be the best I can be... Also to Steve, Donny and Stephen who support, inspire, protect and care...

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

AN EVENING WITH CJSW SPEAK SEBAS- TION AT UNIVERSITY OF CALGARY

On January 8, 1993, Barbie and myself were asked to speak on CJSW, Calgary's only gay oriented radio program. Upon arriving at U of C Campus, we found our way to MacEwan Hall and the studio of CJSW. We were greeted by Steve Locke who works for Gay Lines Calgary. Steve is quite involved in the Gay community, he writes a regular column for CLUE Magazine and also is currently on the steering committee for Calgary Lesbian and Gay Political Action Guild 89 (GLACPAG). Steve was also the recipient of the Man of the Year 1991 Speak Sebastian Awards.

Upon hitting the airwaves, we spoke with Steve about our group "Illusions", and how we were formed, the number of members that have joined and our club policies on membership, conduct and our discussion policy. Barbie talked with Steve about the meanings of different terms, such as cross-dresser, transvestite and Drag Queen. We discussed the various degrees that transvestites dress, the emotional feelings that we experience and also about our acceptance in the straight world as well as the gay community.

Barbie also discussed her store, the reasons for her helping us and about her personal views on crossdressing. We also talked about Barbie's service of Complete Feminization, what was involved in a transformation, the make-up, wigs, clothing and also her shopping service for those "girls" who are a little shy.

As we expected, the twenty minutes flew by and there was much more that we could have talked about. Maybe in the future we can chat with Steve again and go into our "hobby" in more depth. For those of you who missed the show, we do have a tape at the club room for your listening pleasure.

We would like to thank Steve for inviting us and also the staff of CJSW.

P.S. Steve thanks again for wearing your pantyhose and heels to make us girls feel at home.....very pretty Dear. (ha ha ha)

From The Library by Ms. Stephanie Donaldson NOTICE TO ALL MEMBERS

After repeated pleas to have books and magazines returned to your library, I find that I might as well talk to the walls. This service was set up for the memberships use and I must inform you that it is being abused. It is with great dismay that if material is not returned by March 30, 1993, all take home privileges will be suspended.

Opinions expressed in this column may not reflect those of the editorial staff or the members of Illusions Social Club.

Picket Fences:

An excellent story line about a transsexual teacher and the problems she faces when a local sheriff investigates a missing persons case. Very well done... a must to see.

Donahue Show:

Men who impersonate women for Employment as Entertainers. Typical Donahue... a little explosive but worth a look.

Channel 10: CALGARY DRAG QUEENS: 1992

A very realistic look at the lifestyle of Drag Queens. A little seedy but well done. Too bad that they didn't show more of Trashy and Tiffany entertaining as we have some of the very best right here in Calgary. Worth a look.

The Primrose:

Thanks to the girls in Chicago for sending their newsletter. This is one of the TV exchanges we have started.

CLUE MAGAZINE:

Barbie's debut as a writer for CLUE. A very informative article which hopes to help the gay community in understanding the crossdresser. We look forward to more insight in the future. Well done Barbie.

NOTE: All these books, magazines and videos are available at the club.

A special thanks to Earl for bringing in all the great books from his recent trip to the USA and Eastern Canada. Your support is really appreciated Earl, you've helped us all so much.

UNIVERSITY OF CALG- ARY INTERVIEW WITH G.L.A.S.S.

(Gay and Lesbian Academic Students and Staff)

On January 12, 1993, Barbie and myself were invited to the University of Calgary to speak about our club Illusions. Other speakers included: Apollo Sports, Gay and Lesbian Youth Calgary AIDS Calgary. After a very informative talk with these other groups, it was time for Barbie and myself to speak. We informed this committee of how Illusions was formed, our policies, membership requirements and the general theme of our monthly parties. Barbie and myself spoke of the different degrees that crossdressers do their hobby, about the various stages we all experience from dressing, at home, to hitting the bar scene and painting the town red. We also discussed the problems faced by many crossdressers when confronting their wives or girlfriends and how to deal with this matter. Barbie spoke about how our members were intimidated about going out into the gay community and also, how the gay community relieved us.

The question and answer section came next and it was wonderful that I was asked about my personal feelings on dressing. I had arrived at this meeting as Stephanie so the people were very intrigued. Also of concern to our audience was if there was support out for the wives and significant others. Barbie explained that we were always there for counselling but had found that the more understanding wives were always more than happy to help and talk to the newer members.

Ron from Apollo Sports asked if we thought that the gay community was understanding or if they really needed to be educated more about our lifestyle. This was probably the question of the night and we explained through talks like these and the new magazine like CLUE were perfect vehicles to reach out to the community. As the meeting came to a close, we were approached by many who thanked us for coming and speaking. We were also asked to come back in the future and speak more in depth about our lifestyle and our group Illusions.

Barbie and I would like to thank all the groups who attended for your hospitality and to the members of GL.A.S.S. we would like to extend our thanks and look forward to speaking to you again.

My ritual starts with a bath, a body shave complete and then work on my hair. I pick out clothes for my mood and the rest just follows. My kit consists of lipstick, eyeliner and foundation at all times. I have shaving problems sometimes and have to work around them.

So how's it going now?

Being a female isn't easy. I look in the mirror and see Jacqui but it gets mixed up with seeing my boy-self. I am a cook now and I'm hoping that I could find a job where it won't matter if I'm a boy or a girl. It won't be easy on my family either but with close friends around, I'll be able to cope.

And the future?

To start hormone therapy in the next couple of years and to have some great friends nearby for support; and my family to continue to love and support me.

Any fancy last thoughts or quotes?

Be the best without hurting others along the way. Be open and honest!

Thanks Jacqui for sharing you life with us, we can't wait to see your step-down show for the upcoming Illusions Birthday party. Your a great friend to us all.

AN ILLUSION RETURNS

By LISA

Having returned from a year's travel; I'm starting life again, home in Calgary. Not only am I starting a business, finding a home and re-acquainting with old friends; I'm back with Illusions.

I could write you a book about my trip; so many good things happened, however, for brevity's sake, I'll tell you that my girlfriend and I saw nineteen countries in Europe, North Africa and the Middle East. Each country was uniquely memorable, but Egypt, Turkey, France and Britain were favorites. If you've ever felt compelled to travel, put aside your worries and just go ahead with it. Like us, every other traveler we've met hasn't regretted cutting their home ties for the opportunity of freedom.

The trip was a radical change and it rewarded me with an eased spirit and stronger confidence; so much that I decided to reveal that nagging, long kept secret about Lisa to my girlfriend. It was great telling her about my female self; the words came rushing out, like an escaped prisoner from a life sentence. Maybe I said too much at one time, I was upsetting her. Understandably so, this wasn't what she expected from a boyfriend of two years. I soon shut-up, saddened that I had brought her to tears. We went without mentioning the secret until recently; she found Lisa's things. It was a shock, but it forced us to finally talk about Lisa, now she tolerates my position. More on that, another time.

During our travels, I would look for signs of any crossdressing in other cultures. There wouldn't be much in the Islamic countries. I feel so sorry for anyone born a TV there; not only is the society repressive in sexuality, women's fashion isn't much fun either. Most liberal countries have TV prostitutes, but few have support groups like our Illusions, even the country of love, France, doesn't. TV's there have put ads in the American magazine Femme Mirror, if only to have long distance sisterhood.

Britain however, is another story; this country is matron of crossdressing. In London I came across an advertisement offering: "Transvestite Changeaways-Spend 4 hours being pampered as only a woman can be." The advertiser was a shop called Transformation. I expected to find the shop under the neon glow of the strip-bars of Soho or else in a back alley on the Isle of Dogs, however, to my surprise Transformation was a storefront like any other on a street of food markets and banks. A discrete pink covering was over the windows of the shop and tasteful advertising of the changeaway process was posted. I had to go in. When I entered, I was instantly made to feel welcome by the female staff, "Would you like a coffee?", I was asked. The atmosphere of the shop made me feel at ease too, looking around, I felt like I was in my store: Crossdresser's Heaven. If only I had the money and a place to put it, I could have made one-stop shopping, surrounding me were: silicon breasts, hip pads, wigs, make-up, shoes, TV sized skirts and even fantasy wear. If I wanted to try it all on, and with the help of the staff, there were privacy cubicles down the pink carpeted hallway. A lounge suite was set up for cozy consultations with the staff and above on the wall were the photos of the many clients who've been transformed.

Transsexual, Stephanie Lloyd owns the Transformation Shop. She has four locations in Britain. London itself has at least two other competitors in the changeaway business. Further support for the crossdresser comes in over a dozen 'drag-in' pubs, as many TV friendly gay clubs, and private TV social clubs scattered throughout the city.

Historically, in Britain, organized crossdressing goes back to Shakespearean theater. Men played the roles of women, hence the stage direction, DRAG: DRessed As Girl. These 'female actors' were highly respected and although women have since taken their place on stage, some female actors remain as the lead female roles in pantomime theater. Pantomime is traditionally performed at Christmas, these plays are intended to entertain children but adults seem to be the biggest audience.

Female impersonators like Danny LaRue and Barry Humphries (a.k.a. Dame Edna) are household names. Edna, the quick witted Australian housewife has television specials that are watched by huge audiences, she also has satirical novels published about her adventures. You can see Dame Edna specials over here on PBS, they usually run on Friday evenings.

Drag can be common off-stage. Mick Jagger once related that for laughs, men get 'tarted-up' and go down to the pub. Of course not every pub may find that so amusing, but how many in Alberta have that sense of humor or adventure? Here we have house parties like toga nights or tacky tuxedo, but in London, a friend of mine there tells me, they have Drag nights as well, adding to that, the fancy dress ball is a bigger affair where couples go dressed as their partner normally does.

I left Britain a little sad, I really wished I could have stayed to live for awhile. For career and living, this is my favorite place. As a crossdresser, I'd be just that more happy. Unfortunately, Her Majesty's Immigration doesn't agree with my enthusiasm. Back home again, I hoped that the Illusions club still existed, anything can happen in a year. As I discovered, what a year it must have been, membership has grown, the club has its own space and it looks great. Earlier I extolled the Transformation Shop's virtues, but in seeing Barbie and Brian's new shop I think we in Calgary are just as lucky as Londoners.

Illusions is a wonderful consolation for my loss, thank you sisters, you've done a great job. With inspiration like that, I've asked to help Barbie, Christine and Marsha in the writing of this magazine and to submit photographs. I have nine years experience in video production and stills photography, so I hope to be of help to the club and its members. On March 25th, I'll be taking photographs for the updating of our magazine, I hope to see you there. I'll be the one wearing the pink lipstick and the Nikon.

A message from Randi

High there; Randi here from the Edmonton Club with a few words about our special Valentine meeting Feb. 13, 98. The theme was Lipstick and Lipsynk but really it was do your own thing. Like tell your favourite joke, your most embarrassing moment or just tell a short story. Colleen and Rachelle came up from Calgary for this special event. We the Edmonton members extended them our warmest welcome and hope to see more girls from Calgary here from time to time!!! The girls in attendance wish to send a special thank you to Krystal who baked a great cake for this meeting. Krystal however was not able to attend. I think I can safely say that everyone in attendance enjoyed them selves. I know I sure enjoyed myself. Every one of the girls at the Edmonton meeting was given a lipstick, some roses and a ring. This type of meeting was a lot of fun and we hope to plan something like it later in the year.

RANDI

WIGS: TAKING CARE OF YOUR HAIR

By Barble

Every crossdresser should learn about fussing with her "crowning glory", so that an overall feeling of femininity can be reached.

Synthetics are still the inexpensive route to go compared to human hair wigs. Today's synthetics come with a permanent set that can be temporarily restyled. The perm bounces back after it's washed and they come in hundreds of shades.

To wash a wig after several wearings, simply swish it around a few times in a basin of cool to warm water mixed with wig shampoo. Drain out the water and again, rinse with cool to warm water. Wig conditioner should be used as well. Take a capful of conditioner and work it through the hair. Rinse through the wig and hang it over the shower head. It will take an hour or so to dry through, so don't rush it. When dry, shake lightly and Voila! Back in style.

When storing a wig, the perfect thing to do would be to leave it on a wig head with the wig pinned to it. A large scarf covering the wig would be a great way to protect it from dust. If you have to store the wig, don't leave it in a plastic bag, as it creates a static with the hair. Leave your wig in the hair net in a shoe box or brown bag.

Never, ever, use an ordinary hairbrush on your wig! A wig pick or wig brush is gentle and helps to safely untangle the hair. I find that once you bring a wig out of storage, a good quick brushing is necessary to put some volume back into the locks. Hold the wig from the nape and brush downwards. With a bit of practice teasing, the bangs, top and sides will add the fullness you require.

BUYING YOUR WIG

Selecting the right wig can be fun as there are many things to consider:

- What look are you trying to achieve?
- What style best suits your personality?
- What enhances your features the best?

All these things combined will help you pick your best look.

Usually the hair coloring should be similar to your present coloring, as these are closely related to your eye and face makeup. Straying into different colours can throw off your makeup if you are not well practiced at it.

Trying on wigs can be a scary experience, however, if the wig suits you, then it's a keeper. And lastly, Hair spray, like perfume should be used sparingly and only on special occasions.

ARE YOU A CROSSDRESSER?

Member Profile "Jacqui"

This area has been left privacy considerations.

By Barbie

How did you get your name,
Jacqui

When I was about 8 years old we had a Pekinese terrier dog called Jacqui, I loved that name...and that dog.

Where did you come from?

I was born in Guayaquil Ecuador and went to private school there until grade 8. We came to Canada in 1980 when I was 14 years old. My parents were missionary's so the schools were Christian schools. I went to high school in Calgary at Lord Beaverbrook.

How was it at home as you got older?

I had a pretty strict but understanding and loving family..with brother and sister. My mom and dad are happily married and we get along well. I spent more time with my mom, mainly because my dad was off speaking alot. I used to hide my feelings about being a girl from all of my family.

When did you leave home?

My parents were posted to Saskatchewan so I decided to go it alone. I stayed in our house for awhile and it was hard to get used to being alone. I also found it hard to visit my folks as I was getting more independent. Now I'm with a room mate and all is well.

Have your looks changed over the years?

A little bit over the years, but I have always seen myself in a particular way...sort of conservative and sort of western. I dress in a natural kind of way and practice lots.

How do you feel about dressing?

For me it seems real natural and it's harder to dress as a boy! Jacqui feels better in girl clothes and makeup.

Would you rather be male or female?

FEMALE...If I had the money I'd be getting all the surgery and then some done. Realistically, I would like to aim towards the operation in the next 5 to 10 years. There's alot involved in getting that done, and I'll have to save lots of money. Since I was 8 I have always been comfortable with the females. I never wanted to participate in boys, aggressive sports, etc. As I grew older, the feeling just grew stronger.

What does your dressing consist of?

Illusions Photos to be Changed!

We start with a new format, next issue

By Lisa

Do you find the greatest blow to your female vanity, the photograph? Too often we spend hours getting made up, only to take self-timer photos in the bedroom. The final result is either over-exposed, out of focus, or you are posed like you were on a police line-up. There is a better way.

On Thursday March 25, your club is putting on a photo shoot for members. It's a regular social night and we are setting space aside for the photography. I am a professional photographer and will be taking the photos. Instead of the bed, fridge or window as a background we'll have a neutral shade backdrop, this isn't distracting and it flatters you. We are using proper lighting, flash is easy but it isn't a friend of the crossdresser, the light it emits is harsh and shows all our flaws. If you think that you are to male looking in photos we'll use a diffusion filter over the lens, this will soften your looks considerably.

Freed from the deadline of the self-timer, we'll pose and coax you into positions that are feminine, this will require a some thinking on your part, you'll have fully think of yourself as a woman. Some crossdresser photos look like a football player in drag, women just don't sit that way. Think of these few tips- Don't: cross your legs like a man, lean over like you were saddled up to a bar, clench your fists-keep the fingers long and elegant, and don't stand like a GI-Joe doll. Modeling before a camera is difficult and there are very few talented people who have the knack, but at least we'll get you looking your best. Take the time to notice models in women's magazines or photo books, copy what they pose, move your body gracefully into position, and importantly: keep relaxed, this is supposed to be fun.

Illusions magazine changes format next issue, many of the photographs we've seen for the last couple of years are tiring out, and there are members who haven't placed a photo yet. This next edition will have entirely new photographs, so we ask that you came down for the photo-session, or supply us one yourself. Because there has been a demand to upgrade the quality of the magazine, we request that all photo submissions be in black and white, be no larger than 4x6 and are of tasteful content. Dirty photos will be returned, we can't sell this in brown envelopes you know.

The cost in getting your photo done is only a dollar, if you would like a copy, that's another dollar. We wont just shoot one photograph, we'll take a few and pick your best. If your want photos of different outfits, or enlargements we'll work out a price, it'll be minimal.

If you are unable to make the photo shoot, but still want your photo taken, let us know and we'll try to arrange another session.

So girl, this magazine ain't Vogue but we can try.

NEWS

My first Year as an Illusion Member

Randi here again. Just a little note to tell you about my first year as a member of the club. Dixie and another friend have taken me (dressed) to Kingsway Mall, West Edmonton mall, and Chinook Mall in Calgary.

Last June I went to a doctor, dressed to the nines. This could not have been done with out the help of my great friend Michelle. A few weeks later a friend of mine and I went to my dentist I was dressed this time too, and we took the bus to the mall. The first thing my female dentist asked was "How long did it take you to get ready?" I said "About an hour to an hour and a half. She said "about the same as me."

I have met so many Great friends through the club and I know I will meet more like Michelle, Terri, Pauline, Dixie, Krystal, Daina, From the Edmonton Club. Special thanks to you all. I also wish to thank Colleen from the Calgary club for your friendship and support. Some times two or three of the girls get together at my home for coffee, a night of cards, music, and chit chat.

Randi wishes to thank the Executive for their kindness toward new members, and for giving me a chance to express my female side in a safe and friendly atmosphere.

Reflecting back on 1982 I would have to say it was a lot of fun. If 1993 is half as good as 1982 it is going be great as well.

I still have some things to work out, but with the help I'm getting from the club I have this wonderful feeling everything is going to work for the best.

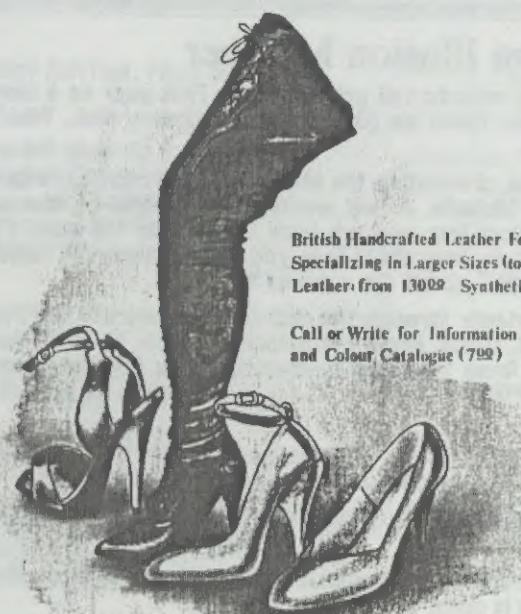

P.S.

My Hope is that I can contribute to the club in some helpful way.

Thank you all for making me feel more complete and letting me be one of the girls.

Luv Randi
